COLORADO SPRINGS.

The town of Colorado Springs is situated in the centre of El Paso county, at a point where the Monument Treek unites with the Fontair e qui Bouille; and where the Tie Pass opens most the plains.

It is a principal stati n on the I enver and Rio Grande Railway, seventy-six miles so an of Denver the metropohis of the Territory, and furry two miles north of Pueblo.

The town takes its pame from numerous valuable rimeral springs in the immediate neighborhood. The most imni springs in the immediate integritory compared to a constraint of these are grouped tigether about five miles to the west, in a leastiful glengto which has been given the name of Maniton. These are the celebrated "Builing" Springs," which, years ago, were made known a the work by Fremont, Ruxton, and other writers. Formerly they were visited on account of their recicinal cities by the native tribes of Indians, who regarded them as supernatural phenomena caused by the direct action of the Great Spirit. In latter times, notwithstanding the difficulty of access to them, their fame has attracted large num-bers of invalids, enxious to avail themselves of the healing waters. During last year, large sums of money have been expended in laying out and adorning the ground in the neighborhood; a handsome, commodians, and com ortable hotel has been built, bath-houses have been futed up, and many other conveniences provided. Now that there famous springs, are so easily accessible, and that every provision has been made for the comfort of visitors, there can be no doubt that a few years will suffice to make them as attractive a point as is Saratoga in the East. Thousands which we need not cata ogue.

In addition to these won terful springs, some of the most remarkable and magnificent scenery on the American , ontiment is in proximity to the town.

Directly in front is Plac's Peac, the most ce chrated of the Rocky Mountains, rising to a height of unwards of 40 on feet allowesses leve its head occured with snow all the year. Right and left of the Peac is a long range of "Foot-Fills" long mountains they would be termed in any other land, "infinitely diversified with variety of orm and outline, with rocky crags and tumbled boulders; and smooth slopes, with constart play of light and shade, with contrast of rich and dombre colors, with sweaks of snow and dark groves of pine"—the whole forming a panoraina of exceeding beauty, of which the eye never tires.

hree miles from town is the womerful and amous "Garden of the Gous," in which huge rocks, hundreds o feet high, and of the most "intastic s' apes, and go good colors, form a scene which excites the worder of al. who behold it. Close to the Garden is "Glen Syrie," with its Queen's Canon, equally wonderful and bequaliful. Five miles to the southwest of the town is "Cheyenne Canon," a magnificent gorge, whose studencess walk of rock and leastful waterfal a give it an a most unrivaled franceur. I welve miles north is "Menument Park." studed with the points of lofty columns of sandstone, which sook like hose lisks of some by gone face of finats. Immediately begand the fountain, and he Ute Pass. Indeed, in a Circettone, it is consistent of grandeur and of beauty. "The content of the mountains."

The Springs and the Scenery combined are decined, of nemselves, to build up a town of considerable size and importance. Here will be a place of resure of almost amequact attractions—cown the work over last year rought thousands of visitors, from a most every State of rought thousands or visitors, from a nost every State in the Union, and from foreign ands, and each succeeding scasson will bring an increasing throng; which many, who are in meant to send; have aready chosen that their permanent home, and many more will settle here in order to accure the same inestimable home.
